

Piotr Gerber

A graduate of the Technical University of Wrocław, an architect and architectural historian, obtained a PhD in Technical Sciences.

Since 1983 he has been associated with the Faculty of Technical University of Wrocław as a researcher and an adjunct professor.

He has 25 years of experience in health care management, including 15 years of experience in health care strategic management.

From 1989 to 2000 he co-founded, managed, and was a shareholder of Urtica Sp. z o. o.

Since 2000 he has been engaged with EMC Instytut Medyczny SA (formerly EuroMediCare Instytut) as the founder, the Chairman of the the Management Board (until September 2014) and the main shareholder (until mid-2013).

He has sit on the Supervisory Boards of the EMC Group companies.

For many years he has co-authored and actively participated in the operation of the National Union of Private Hospitals and the European Union of Private Hospitals (UEHP).

He is an expert in health sector management and in the fields of modernizing and designing historic hospitals.

He has been repeatedly invited to co-create and conduct medical business conferences.

He is a founder of the Museum of Industry and Railway in Jaworzyna Śląska, Henryka Gerber's Foundation for Chronically Ill People and the Foundation for the Preservation of Industrial Heritage.